MANGAHA

DREAM JOB

My dream job is to become a Mangaha. I want to earn $350 per episode. As a mangaha, I will draw every day, write dialogue and text, and make a good story. I will also need to promote the manga, manage time and deadlines, and develop the plot and storyline.

I like this job because I like drawing every day and I want to make a good manga that people will enjoy. I want to make stories that are fun and interesting to read.

But being a mangaha also has some risks and challenges. Like, failure to create engaging storyline, difficulty in managing time, and needing to receive and use feedback. I also have to design characters and concepts, make sure the story and characters are fun, and keep the quality and look consistent.

Even with the challenges, I still want to be a mangaha because I love manga and drawing. I hope one day, people around the world will read my manga and love it too.

IDOL

DREAM JOB

My dream job is to become an idol. I want to earn 500만원 ($3800) per month. As an idol, I want to become well-known, get better at singing and dancing, and inspire others with my music. I will also make friends and fans from around the world, try different jobs like acting or hosting, and show my personal style. I want to work with other talented people, set trends, and be a role model. Idols can also earn a lot from concerts and ads. The best part is, I can do what I love every day.

I like this job because I can do what I love and I can be famous. But being an idol also has risks and challenges. Like, you can't go outside freely and you can't date freely. Even though there are challenges, I still want to be an idol and make people happy with my music.

My dream is to have my paintings in a big art show. I want to make people happy with my art!

MARYAM

BUSINESSWOMAN

DREAM JOB

My dream job is to become a businesswoman. I want to have my own company where I can be the boss, make smart decisions, and create new things that people need. A businesswoman can earn around Rp5.000.000 to Rp50.000.000 per month (about $300 to $3,000), and if my business is big and successful, I can earn even more! I love the idea of leading others, thinking of new ideas, and helping people by giving jobs and useful products. I want to do something I truly love and turn my passion into success while also helping my family.

I know running a business isn't always easy—I will face challenges, make hard choices, and maybe even fail sometimes. But I will keep learning and never give up. Even though many people think business is only for men, I want to prove that girls can do it too!

My biggest dream is to build a legacy, something that people will remember as kind, helpful, and inspiring. For me, success is not just about money—it's about making a difference and showing others, especially girls, that they can chase their dreams too.
